

Cell phone use on planes is a bad idea. Most flights are relatively quiet, but permitting people to use thier phones would make the noise level unbearable. Studies have shown that people talk louder on cell phones than on traditional land lines. I can see more incidents of air rage as a result of people using their phones.